LABOR DAY RACES.

A HIGHLY ATTRACTIVE PROGRAMME AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY:

WELL-KNOWN NAMES ON THE CARD-TENNY AND

FIRENZI WITH LIGHT WEIGHTS. This being Labor Day, that is to say, the day on which Labor is supposed to do no work but play, the Coney Island Jockey Club has arranged a programme of seven races in place of the usual six, and a highly attractive card is offered, glittering with well-known names. In the stake race named in honor of the day Firenzi reappears, and this time the Queen of the Turf may be expected to do credit to herself and her high fame. Her poor showing in the New-York Handicap is explained by Trainer Byrnes. She was cut down, he says, by Frontenac, the injury not being of a serious description, but such as to prevent her from reaching the full measure of her speed. In that race she carried 130 pounds. To-day her weight is but 119, which

In the Racing Stakes, which has been made the third race on the card, the club having changed the order in which the seven races will be run since the book of the meeting was published, Tenny comes out again, and he, too, may do better than when he last appeared. On that occasion, it seems, the trainer, Mr. Donovan, did not like to start him, but did so at the wish of the owner, Mr. Pulsifer. Tenny was disgracefully beaten, and many thousand dollars were lost on him. There is no surer or easier way to fleece the public than to start a high-class horse and a popular favorite when the animal is not fit. The Reople, as a rule, are in no position to know its real condition, and, blindly assuming that it is ready for a bruising contest, plunge wildly in the belief that they getting a little sure money. The better the horse the better its condition should be when it starts. Let us hope that Tenny will not fool the public to-day. That he will be heavily backed goes without saying. Yet he will have no easy tosk to defeat La Tosen and Racine, and his last performance caused so much grief that it is doubtful if he will go to the post a favorite.

For the first time this year two-year-olds will be asked to make a journey of one mile. In the Woodcock Stakes, on the grass course, six are named to start three of them being in the stable of Green B. Morris-Lew Weir, Phil Dwyer and King Mac. Mr. Morris would seem to have a mortgage on this race, though Galindo is not a bad sort of horse.

In the sixth race the Suburban winner, Loantaha comes out. Is it possible that Loantaka is so thoroughly satisfied with his Suburban honors that he does not care or earn others? This horse ought to be win-

A TRAINER'S NOTES FROM THE TRACKS.

Sheepshead Bay, Sept. 6.—The weather is the only thing that prevents the fall meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club from being the most successful in its history. Tenny seems to have improved, and in the two last moves which he made he Worked with his old-time freedom and did not prop himself in any part of the mile, which was done in 1:44. Racine's mile in 1:45 over the Brooklyn track with spected in the notes. was reported in the notes. It was a very fast move, taking the track and conditions into consideration. As his race of Saturday showed, he was up to giving the econd a close argument. To-day he is in superb condi-tion and fit to run for a king's ransom. In Tosca, the queen of the St. Blaises, was never in better fettle than at present, as her races show. She shows marvellous speed in her work and breaks of a quarter in 23 seconds easily. Le Tosca can set such a pace that the ordinary sprinters are dizzy before three-eighths of a mile is run. "Speed makes gome" is an old turf maxim, and in La Tosca's case it is truly borne out.

Major Domo has recovered from the effects of his race at Jerome Park, but is an uncertain quantity. He has worked a mile in 1.45%, and showed great speed in a brush of five-cighths, which was done in 1.04. Judge Morrow should run an improved horse in his next-attempt for the money. Lew Welr and Pail Dwyer have both worked a mile in 1:46%, which is a good move. King Mac has also gone the same distance in 1:46. Three of the Buldwin let were worked a mile. Galindo was one of Endwin lot were worked a mile. Gailindo was one of them in 1:47, so two-year-old races at a mile are likely to be run in fast time and to make good contests.

The three-year-old sprinters are a peculiar lot, and weight does not make much difference over a short distance. Contribution, the trial horse for the two-year-olds in Hyland's stable, always works well, but his races are the true return to so her production. In the land's stable, always works well, but his races are the true and's stable, always works well, but his races are the true exterion to go by. Potentate, is Charles Sanders's stable, is worked at the Brooklyn track. He has done five eighths in 1:03\(\frac{1}{2}\), and his second to Kirgston in record time ever the Futurity course is not forgotten. The chances are that "Pajea" Nelson will bet pies to crullers that he is in the first three. Eclipse, the speedy son of Kyrle Daily, will carry the money of the Hudson County delegation, should be start. He is not a good horse in muddy going. He has worked five-eighths over the track on the Hill in 1:02 that, with a good lot of weight up. Queenston, the sister of Kingston, can run in the mud, and worked three-quarters in 1:18 over a slow track with light weight in. chances are that "Papa" Nelson will bet ples to crulters light weight up.

Cerberns is fast, but likes moderate company. The same conditions apply to Relievue. Firenzi was worked one and a quarter fulles, but the track was not suited to one and a quarter falles, but the track was not suited fast work. However, 2:154; should do. In the New.

York Handicap she was not right up to the mark, and was badly placed in parts of the race, but if the track is moved from the injured part for six days at least.

Dr. Manning told a reporter that it was the first in was badly placed in part of the real time she starts. Matt Allen has Demuth right on edge, and Murphy has the way he should be ridden down fine. One and a quarter miles in 2.16 is his work. He should give any field a good race when he trick his best.

Ambulance and Terrifier are much better than the last

Ume they appeared, the former working freer and without showing any soreness. One and one-quarter miles in 2 his over a moderate track is their work. In fact, the entire lot of J. A. & A. H. Morris have improved since they arrived at the Brooklyn track, as Reckon's race pisinly shows. What a pity Pirare did not have a chance to show what he could do in the stud. He transmitted both apped and gameness to his get. The cheap seding-pisters chould make a great race, as Willie L. has been winning. Miss Belle and Rempland both have done good work, and when the Salvini people get ready to turn him loose, he should do one and one-eighth miles up to his work—1.36. The Sequence colt was a little short the last time he started, but has had a strong move since then—one and one-eighth miles in 1:39 strady and some left. Lonataka is all right. He worked a mile in 1:45. He is going sound. Sir John, since his defeat by the east-off Lonaford, has only worked a two-minute gat, but with Hamilton on his tack should give the Suburban winner the hottest kind of a race and put Bergen on his mettle, as his ears would those if he heard the many criticisus on his so-called sloventy riding of Sir John. Riot must not be overlooked. He should not have as any in training and is never beaten till the faishing post is passed. Dozgett will have the mount on him. The grass or turf brigade make some of the Ume they appeared, the former working freer and without showing any soreness. One and one-quarter miles in 2.714 over a moderate track is their work. In fact, the entire lot besten till the fluishing post is passed. Dorgett will have the femeral Sessions—Part III—Before Cowing, J., and mount on him. The grass or turf brigade make some of the meeting, and the best performers are right on edge. Watterson and Pagan meet at even weights. Their recent races are their work. Clio, of the Baldwin lot, is a big, strong-going herse and has worked three-quarters in 1:17. How well he can stay remains to be found out. Folsom, Lord Harry, Ballston and Castaway the Second have all been worked to pull off a good thing on the grass track, and should they all finish out for the three places the grass race should be off a good than the places the grass race should be shinks out for the three places the grass race should be worth going miles to see.

Louis Stuart has gone home, where he will remain till the beginning of the Brooklyn meeting. Tristan's ruptured muscle has swellen up again, and the chances are that the specifiest son of Glenely will not appear till the spring of 1892. Louis Stuart had a fairly successful season, but through the accidents of racing lost several races he should have won. There will be racing at Linden Park this fall unless the present plans fall through. "Bab" is getting the track ready and herowing up the "grass." At the Elizabeth track Labor Day there will be trotting races and a bleycle tournament, M. F. Dwyer giving the use of the track iree. It is estimated that 10,000 people will be present. There is a revulsion of feeling in favor of racing in Union County, and were it feeling in favor of racing in Union County, and were it is the standard that the stacks would have an overwhelming majority.

The Preakness yearlings have arrived from Kentucky The Preakness yearlings have arrived from Kentucky. They are the get of Macduff and the famous son of Longfellow, Linden. They arrived safely. They are good-sized and racy looking, and the get of Linden will be closely watched. John Miller, who skips between New-York and Lexington, says that the St. Blaise and Ill-Used yearlings on the Belmont farm are as grand a lot as he ever saw. St. Blaise himself never looked

PLANS FOR A FINE TRACK. A SYNDICATE TO BUY AND IMPROVE BRIGHTON

BEACH.

An authority on racing says that the Engemans are to give up Brighton Beach next year, and that a rich syndicate of capitalists is going to take hold of the property and make it the finest racing ground in the United States. The Brighton Beach Hotel and all the surrounding property will be purchased by the same syndicate. The track will be widened, and the inclosure will take in the hotel, which is to be conducted in the interest of the racing association The whole will be operated as a business enterprise by the syndicate. The Brooklyn and Brighton Beach road, which has long been under the weather, will be improved, new rolling stock will be purchased, and everything will be done to attract the people to the beach. Some well-known men of affairs are interested in the plan.

HE SHOT A BARTENDER.

William Ryan, of No. 315 Cherry-st., got drunk on saturday night, and while trying to "brace up" yes terday morning went into a liquor store, at No. 123 Worth st. and demanded a drink. The bartender refused to serve him, whereupon Ryan pulled out a pistol and shot him in the chin. Officer Byrnes, of the Oak-st. station, heard the report and hurrled to the store. Kyan snapped his pistol at the officer, who quickly arrested him and took him to the station house. In the Tombs Police Court Justice O'&cilly held Ryan in $1,000 ball for trial.

GRAFTING SEIN ON A BOY'S LEG. Joseph Stauntonbaum, a newsboy, has been sufferinging August 6 at the Chambers Street Hospital with a ince ated leg. AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

A FOOL AND HIS MONEY -Jacob Williams, who comes from Cedar County, Missouri, went to the Adams Street Police Court last evening and told a sad story of his trust in one who like himself was an admirer of the two noted Brooklyn preachers Beecher and Talmage, Mr. Williams was crossng the Brooklyn Bridge yesterday morning intent upon making a pligrimage to the places where the two men . A nice looking man, about forty years old, short, with black hair and mustache and gray and black clothes, sat down beside him. The newcomer looked benevolent, and Mr. Williams told him of his proposed The stranger was thinking of going to the places, as he too was a great admirer of the preachers. So the two went to the Tabernacle together, and then went and stood outside of Plymouth Church, where there was no service going on, while the Brookly man described the interior of the building and gave personal reminiscences of its former paster. Then the Iwo visited the Beecher statue, and discussed the purpose of having it face the City Hall. Afterward they took a walk through several streets until in Johnson-st. a man approached them and demanded from Mr. Williams's companion $15, which he said was due to him. The latter only had a check and some small him. The latter only had a check and some same change. The newcomer was impudent and did not want to wait while they went and got the check cashed. Mr. Williams thought that was a strange way to treat a man of such respectability and prominence as Mr. Beecher's friend and advanced the $15. Then with his companion he went to have the check cashed. The companion went into a hotel to cash it, and Mr. Williams is wondering how a man who appreciated good sermons so well could have left him so hurriedly.

A MIDNIGHT FIGHT WITH A BURGLAR. Jacob Osckner, who lives on the second floor of the house No. 49 Cook-st., returned home late on saturday night and found that his rooms had been ransacked by thieves. Everything was in confusion, and while Osckner was making an examination of the rooms and closets he found himself suddenly confronted by a powerfully built man. The thief was n one of the closets, where he had concealed blimself on hearing Mr. Oschner enter the rooms. A desperate struggle between Oschner and the thief followed. Both were unarmed. The men fought across the room toward the open window, when the thief tried to throw Mr. Osckner through it to the street. He was unsuccessful, and fearing that the cries would alarm, the other occupants, the thief released his grasp and jumped to the sidewalk. Officer Candidus of the Sixth Precinct, saw the man and arrested him. When the thief found himself in the grasp of the policeman, he made a hard fight for liberty, and it was not until the latter had used his club freely that he was able to take his prisoner to the station. The prisoner said he was Peter Brittner, of No. 13 Scholes-st. When arraigned before Justice Goetling yesterday he was held to answer a charge of burglary.

At both places srvices were held according to the Grand Army ritual.

SHE SAYS HER BOXES WERE RETURNED EMPTY Mrs. Eliza Sweeney has begun suit in the City Court against W. H. Stratton for $1,500 damages for the loss of goods left with Straiton for storage. The complaint says that she kept a millinery shop in Fultonst. near Carlion ave. On December 11, 1888, having decided to go out of business, she packed up her goods and sent them to the office of a storage company, at No. 139 Duffield-st. The goods remained there until September, 1889, when she paid 824 for storage and the boxes were sent to her. Then she found that the goods had disappeared and the boxes were empty. she says that she had much trouble in finding Stratton. His father presided at the Duffield-st. office, and she was unable to learn where the storage house was or in fact that there was any storage house. The office in Duffield-st. is a private house. Problemide of the bed stood a pall of water. When Mrs. Anderson awoke about 4 a. m., yesterday, she was surprised to find the child no longer beside her and was still more startled on looking about to see the little form half immersed in the water pail. On examination she found that Maria was dead, having fallen head first into the water. Roundsman spreader investigated the case and found no reason to suppose that the child's death was not entirely needeeth.
